WASHINGTONVILLE

VOL. XXXII.

By Peter M. Herold.

Aftermath Thoughts.

The "wets" carried the Washington-ville precinct last Saturday by a vote of 55 "dry" to 99 "wet." The voting proceeded quietly throughout the day, much like any previous election day; and it might be stated just here that our people do not enthuse very noticeably on any subject, be it politics or religion.

Everybody appeared more or less in-terested in the outcome, however, and anxious crowds waited around the 'phone stations for the first word of en-couragement. The ticket being short, the result of this precinct was known before 7 o'clock, and nobody appeared

The general result was known before

The general result was known before 9 o'olook, that the wets had carried East Liverpool by 340, also Wellsville and that township by 41. But Lisbon and its township rolled up a "dry" majority of 454; and the city of Salem added 80 majority to the "dry" column. Then over in Unity and Fairfield townships (where they have a God, and have been "dry" for fifteen years) they rolled up a combined "dry" majority of 559. Salineville, that has been "dry" for a few years, gave a dry majority of 89. Even Lectonia, which the "wets" expected to carry 3 to 1, came near going "dry."

The total "dry" majority in Columbiana county is variously estimated from 1,500 to 1,600, the "wets" being routed horse, foot and dragoon, worse than was Morgan's raid in July, 1863, than was Morgan's raid in July, 1863, or Napoleon at Waterloo in 1815. After the result was generally known throughout the county, there was a clamor and scramble among the thirsty ones to get here from Lisbon, Lectonia. Salem and other points, for it was known that there was a saloon open on the Mahoning side of Main street not covered by the Sheriff's and the Mayor's proclamations, but unfortunately the wet goods were all sold out long before closing time. The place is said to have had much the appearance of a sardine box so long as the "goods" held out. Thirty counties in Ohlo have voted "dry," being over one-third of the 88 counties in the state. It is now thought certain that Mahoning county voters will soon be heard from, then taxpayers can pay all their taxes at the county treasurer's offices instead of paying parts of it indirectly through the spigot.

The result of Saturday's "wet" and "dry" election would indicate that the voters of Columbiana county agree with Horace Greeley when he said that "The American Saloon has no rights that the American Citizen is bound to respect,"

A very pleasant day was spent at the home of Mrs. Mary J. Ewing last Satur-day, the occasion being a reunion of the Stuart families originally of this place together with a few invited relatives. In the forenoon the young men of the party "took to the woods" and returned with a good number of red, grey and fox squirrels. A most bountiful dinner was served by the ladies, of which twenty-six partook. The tables presented a very pleasing appearance and fairly groaned under the weight of the good things of the season and the participants groaned after the repast was over. drouth and hard times -For the year ending Aug. 31 the Trumbull county infirmary cost $12,-610.44; value of farm products sold $952.05; net annual cost per immate $121.44; total outside relief in town-ships $3,554.41.

-On account of business depression the Newton Falls News has reduced its size from a six-column quarto to a five-column quarto. Here is hoping Editor Green may be able to soon find conditions so favorable that he can resume the old size. -Not everything that happens in a town makes fit matter for a newspaper. Family quarrels do not make good reading, nor does the unpleasant gossip that is going around about some young men or women. A fight in the church choir is absolutely tabooed and to publish anything about a scrap in the ladies aid society would never do.—Ex. -A special from Lisbon says: Rev. Robert E. Pugh, who was called to the pastorate of the Canfield Presbyterian church after having occupied the Presbyterian pulpit here for the past seven years, moved Monday and expects to assume his new duties at once. Rev. Mr. Pugh remained to assist in the county option fight and was one of the most valuable men enlisted with the

-Unmistakable signs lead weather prophets to predict a severe winter. An old weather-wise Pennsylvania farmer remarks that the weeds have grown unusually high, which he said indicates a long, severe winter. He said nature causes the weeds to grow tall so that Oct. 7.—Charles Austin and wife and | birds can feed upon the seeds when the John Crum and wife of Poland spent ground is covered with snow. Another Sunday at Israel Hahn's. carrying their winter supply of grain into hollow trees. When they deposit them in less secure places a mild winter

may be expected. -The following from the Louisville Herald is true as preaching: The backbone of any community is its merchants. They pay the bulk of taxes, support charitable and philanthropic institutions, and it is they who are called upon to contribute means where-by public demonstrations and celebrations are held. The churches call upon them for support in their various enterprises, and there is not an undertaking of any proportion or of any merit which is not almost solely dependent upon genero ity of our business men. And yet knowing these things, many people patron-ize outside business houses which bleed the town of its resources and give noth-

-Louisville Herald: Country life has its drawbacks, but it has its great advantages which overcome them. True, those who live in the country are "Rubes" and "hayseeds" to the cigarette smokers in town, but the boast of the business men in the world today is that they were born on a farm. Take away the surrounding evils that beset the young men or women on the thres-hold of life's journey in the city, and substitute the helpful influence of nature, and you fortify them for the sterner walks in life. The few things which they do not know about table etiquette and when proper to leave two visiting cards and when but one, they will catch onto much quicker than city boys and girls will learn to properly stoke the girls will learn to properly stoke the furnace or make good bread. No boy or girl need be ashamed of living on the farm, for if they have taken advantage of what it has offered they are well fortified for after life.
